

BROOKLYN.

CRUELTY TO A CHILD.

A Six-Year-Old Girl Beaten by a Stepmother.

HER HAIR ALL PULLED OUT.

Hit with a Poker or Club and Left on the Floor Without Blanket or Pillow.

Mrs. Anna Seintz, of 125 Dykman street, Brooklyn, was held in $500 bonds for examination on Sept. 10, by Justice Tighe in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning, charged by Officer Coschina, of the Children's Society, with brutally mistreating her little six-year-old step-daughter, Johanna.

The child was in court and looked like a nervous wreck. Her body is covered with cuts and bruises. She has a great bump on her head and is almost blind. It is alleged her step-mother has pulled most of her hair out by the roots.

The child shook with fear and clung to the skirts of Mrs. Frederika Kleen, her aunt. The child's father is Otto Seintz, a Lithuanian.

Her mother died almost three years ago, and her two brothers were put in the Beecher Home for Children. Little Johanna was taken care of by her aunt, Mrs. Kleen. About six months ago Seintz married his present wife, and Johanna went home. She says almost from the first, her new mother began to abuse her.

Officer Coschina said to Judge Tighe this morning:

"On Sept. 14 Patrolman Burke, of the Hamilton avenue station, told me a child was being shockingly mistreated at 125 Dykman street. He said he tried to get in the house but Mrs. Seintz would not admit him. I went there, and I found the place locked. Neighbors told me that it was a shame no one had interfered."

"I arrested Mrs. Seintz. She does not speak English, and did not seem to care. I found the child at her aunt's house, 174 Conover street. When I first found her she appeared to have been badly used."

"She told me her mother beat her with a stove poker and a club on the slightest provocation. She was obliged to sleep on the floor without bed clothing or a pillow. Her hair is mostly gone. She says her mother pulled it out. It is a bad case."

Judge Tighe gave the child to the custody of the aunt until after the examination on Sept. 20. She will then be sent to a children's home.

Pulled a Lawyer's Nose and His Henchmen Assault People.

The row between the McGarrys and anti-McGarrys, of the Democratic Tenth Ward, Brooklyn, is very bitter. The trouble gives uneasiness to the Regular General Committee.

Dempsey, one of Alderman McGarry's henchmen, struck Assemblyman Hennessy. The Assemblyman is leading the fight against McGarry. Hennessy brought a criminal action against Dempsey.

Yesterday afternoon Dempsey walked into the saloon of Joseph McGarry, owner of Justice Tighe's court, and was ordered out by bartender James Moore. Moore declares Dempsey assaulted him. The morning Justice Tighe issued a warrant for Dempsey.

Lawyer George Gru says Alderman McGarry pulled his nose on Monday evening.

The opponents of Alderman McGarry allege frauds at the primaries on Monday night. They are preparing affidavits and will apply for warrants.

WANT MIXED SCHOOLS.

Jamaica Colored Citizens Demand Equal Educational Rights.

Justice Cullen in Supreme Court, Brooklyn, this morning was to hear argument on an order to show cause why the Board of Education of the Town of Jamaica should not admit colored children to the public schools.

The case was adjourned until Sept. 23. The petitioners are Ezra Hunter, Isaac Phillips, E. W. Tupley, John Jackson, Hannah J. Smith, Hannah Smith, Samuel B. Cline and J. Simmons.

The affidavit of Ezra Hunter says in August he sent his child to the white school and the teacher refused to admit him. The Board of Education told him he must fight it in the courts.

The Board claims separate schools have been provided for colored children.

Four Bedstead Virtues.

CLEANLINESS, SERVICE, BEAUTY AND STYLISH ARE FOUR QUALITIES THAT ARE FOREVER ASSOCIATED WITH BRASS AND ENAMELLED IRON BEDSTEADS. BUT WHY BING THEIR PRICES? EVERY HOUSEKEEPER KNOWS THEIR VIRTUES.

HUNTING CHINESE LEAKS.

Commissioner Stump Making an Inquiry in Canadian Ports.

(Special to The Evening World.) VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 19.—Herbert Stump, Commissioner General of Immigration for the United States, arrived here yesterday on a tour of inspection, accompanied by three members of the investigation committee, who did the duty of San Francisco's Chinatown and as a result of whose report to a large extent the Geary Exclusion law was passed.

"I am, as a matter of fact, on a tour of inspection," he said. "Chinamen are leaving from Canada into the States all the time. Where they come from must be discovered. We looked carefully into the matter of Chinese immigration in California some time ago. Measures were taken accordingly."

"I am on a voyage of inquiry. All we know is that Chinese are getting in at Port Huron, at Detroit, at Black Rock, at Ogdensburg, at Morrisburg and at a hundred unnameable points on the St. Lawrence."

"We blame no one. It is likely the all our Canadian politicians here or at Victoria and drift East. That is what we want to find out."

Mr. Stump and party will remain here a day and then proceed to other British Columbia points.

Old Man's Fatal Fall.

Timothy Harrington, sixty-five years old, fell downstairs early this morning at his home, 242 Harrison street, Brooklyn, and broke his neck. He died in a few minutes.

Pennies for Macy's.

There was an unusual demand on the Sub-Treasury yesterday, when $5,000 in pennies was taken out by R. H. Macy & Co. The money weighed about 2,000 pounds and entailed as much labor as the withdrawal of $1,000,000 in gold. If the pennies were spread out in a single line they would extend from the firm's store to the Harlem River.
